As demand continues to rise, the strength of the student property market is increasing.

* The business accommodation sector is growing at a staggering rate and presents one of the most viable and lucrative investment in housing.

Some of the important benefits owning a business accommodation, such as the very rare knock on effect of economic ups and downs and the opportunity for receiving the highest than average rental yield, make this type of real estate one of the safest investments.

Having sufficient knowledge regarding this investment product, our DKG Development team is on board to create modern and sustainable buildings, featuring functional spaces of unique quality and aesthetics.

* The commercial real estate market in Athens does not seem to be affected by the changes brought about in the workplaces as well as the changes in the work model, mainly due to the serious deficit of quality office spaces, in which the investment interest is currently focused.

At the moment, there is an increase in the number of relocation requests from Greeks but especially from international tenants.
